The Councillor will declare that interest and the nature of the interest at the earliest opportunity. 2. Annual Meetings

- 2.1. If the Annual Meeting is in an election year it must be held within 14 days after that election. If it is not an election year then the Annual Meeting will take place on an appropriate day in May.

The first business of the Annual Meeting will be the election of the Chairman (and Vice Chairman, if appropriate) save for in an election year when members must first sign their Declaration of Acceptance of Office. The election of the Chairman shall be conducted by the outgoing Chairman, or in his absence, a nominated Councillor.

- 2.3 During the election of the Chairman and Vice Chairman, in the case of an equality of votes the person presiding shall have a casting vote, save that if the person presiding at the Annual Meeting would have ceased to be a member of the Council, but for the statutory provisions which preserve the membership of the Chairman and Vice Chairman until the end of their term of office, he/she may not have an original vote in an election of the Chairman.
- 2.4 The retiring Chairman will report on the activities of the Council for the preceding year.
- 2.5. The Vice Chairman of the Council shall be elected annually by the Council from among the Councillors and the election of the Vice Chairman shall be the business transacted at the Annual Meeting of the Council immediately after the election of the Chairman.

- 3.5. If the Chairman refuses to call an extraordinary meeting of the Council after a requisition for that purpose, signed by two members of the Council, has been presented to him, or if, without so refusing, the Chairman does not call an extraordinary meeting within seven days after such a requisition has been presented to him, any two members of the Council, on that refusal or on the expiration of those seven days, as the case may be, may forthwith convene an extraordinary meeting of the Council.
